

NewDay Services

for children & families

2012 Annual Report

Executive Director's Report

Thank you, donors, for your support – you are our heroes! Because of your continued support, NewDay marched through 2012 triumphantly. We could not have done it without you! You will see from our numbers that in Tarrant County we added another fatherhood program, FACT (Fathers and Children Together) and expanded other services to 2 more counties. Aside from Tarrant County, we provided fatherhood classes to Child Welfare in Denton and Collin Counties. The results were amazing: Fathers becoming responsibly involved in their children's lives. By year's end, we were hosting 7 fatherhood classes per week: 4 in Tarrant, 2 in Denton and 1 in Collin.

At the Juvenile Justice Center (JJC), in spite of a population increase in Tarrant, the average weekly population at the JJC decreased from the mid 70's in 2009 to an average of 48 in 2012. This is good news! Chaplains, Mike Brown and Kristi Lambert, hopefully played a small part in this! Sadly, in the Family Courts, couples are still separating at an alarming rate. Divorces have not increased, however, since many couples co-habitate and then separate. Many come to court choosing to represent themselves for financial reasons. Pro Se filings in 2012 were fast approaching the 70% mark. Sadly, the children are the ones who suffer the most.

Needless to say, Don Mansfield, our Advocate/Chaplain had more work than he could handle!

Numbers do not lie and facts are facts. At NewDay, IN 2012 THE FACTS WERE: 1) NewDay increased to a staff of 16; 2) NewDay increased Fatherhood classes from 3 per week to 7; 3) NewDay, BY FAITH, said "Yes" to working with victims of domestic violence at One Safe Place – multiple agencies serving victims of family violence and rape under one roof; 4) Next to Chaplaincy, NewDay had the hardest time funding Administration - without it, programs cannot function - as administration is the basket that holds the fruit; 5) each dollar was stretched to the max; 6) Finally, 2012 was our busiest year thus far.

Our vision at NewDay, simply put is: Serve children by serving families! To serve them we must sustain NewDay. We use the story of Gideon in the Book of Judges as our marching orders. It took Gideon and a Corps of 300 to defeat the Midianite army. A committed Corps of people giving to NewDay monthly creates sustainability. This NEWDAY CORPS consists of our individual donors like you, giving monthly, strengthening the basket. The bottom line is, families are crying out for someone to help them. Each soul is priceless! Join the army; join the movement to redeem families in our community. Give the children who are at the heart of every NewDay program, a fighting chance. Be bold and join the NewDay Corps!
